

Global Funds Management S.A. - No consideration of adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors

GFM does not consider the adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors due to the current orientation of the investment strategies of its investment funds. Moreover, there is currently no sufficient data available to adequately assess the potential negative or adverse impact of its investment decisions on sustainability factors. GFM will continue to monitor the market development and may decide to consider adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors in the future.
